

Dena'inaq' Huch'ulyeshi: The Dena'ina Way of Living
Exhibition Catalog

Lavishly illustrated with more than 600 photographs, maps and drawings, the Dena'inaq' Huch'ulyeshi: The Dena'ina Way of Living exhibition catalog contains 469 entries about Dena'ina objects in European and American collections. The 350-page book is enriched with examples of traditional Dena'ina narratives, first-person accounts and interviews. Thirteen essays on the history and culture of the Dena'ina Athabascan people put the pieces into a larger historical context. Edited by Suzi Jones, James A. Fall and Aaron Leggett. This exhibition catalog is available in the Anchorage Museum shop.
